

Swifty Creek Streamside Landowner

So your property is adjacent to Swifty Creek in your neighborhood. Here are a few things you can do to keep our local waterways healthy.

Living Next to Swifty Creek

By living adjacent to Swifty Creek, you are the steward for some of our most important public resources: clean and safe water, fish and wildlife habitat, drainage, flood control, and erosion control.

You can help to protect Swifty Creek and our local waterways by:

- Planting native trees and plants.
- Washing your vehicle at a car wash.
- Not using pesticides and herbicides.
- Not depositing grass clippings and yard debris on the stream slope.
- Picking up your pet waste and putting it in the trash.

By caring for Swifty Creek, and our local waterways, you can leave a lasting legacy for future generations.
